What Is a Quarter Auction and How Does It Work?

A Quarter Auction is part raffle, part auction, part fundraiser and also a direct sales party. It works a bit like bingo. When you arrive, you will pay $5 for your entry fee and will be given a numbered paddle. This paddle will have a corresponding numbered ball which will be put into the drawing basket. You may also purchase additional individual paddles for $5 each. We will also offer a “Golden Paddle” for $20. (Explanation below)

The direct sales vendors and various neighborhood businesses will have items up for “auction”. These items will be on display as the doors are open before the auction begins so you can see what is available and decide which items you’re interested in.

Once the auction begins, the announcer or one of the helpers will hold up the item that’s up for bid and will announce whether the item is a “one quarter” or “two quarter” bid. (Sometime 3 quarters). If you’re interested in bidding, you’ll put one or two quarters (whatever is announced) for EACH paddle you intend to bid with. So if you have two paddles, and you want to bid with both to double your chances, and the item is a “one quarter” bid, you’ll put 50¢ in the bucket and raise your paddle(s). If you have two paddles and decide to only bid with one, you only pay 25¢, BUT you must choose only ONE numbered paddle to bid with. If you have a GOLDEN PADDLE, you have already paid a fee to raise that paddle without putting in a quarter every time if you so choose. The announcer will then draw a number to find a winner. If they draw your number and you had bid on the item, you win the item at a great price! If they draw your number and you did NOT bid, the announcer will continue drawing a number until they find a winner.

There may be various raffles and cash and carry items available throughout the evening.

The announcer and workers will help explain how those work.

Be sure to BRING QUARTERS! If you forget or run out, there will be rolls of quarters available for purchase at the event.

If it all sounds complicated, relax.

Everything will be explained again once you get to the auction.

And you’ll catch on in no time and you’ll love it!
